

10 TIPS FROM THE CNIL FOR STAYING SAFE ON THE WEB

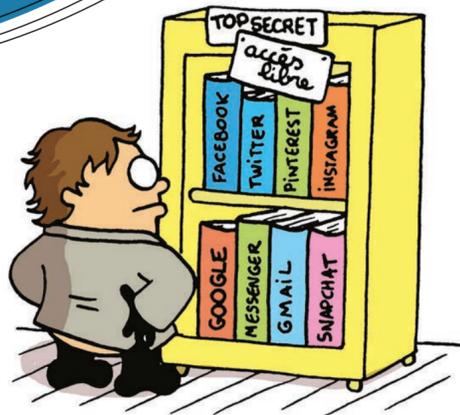

1 THINK BEFORE PUBLISHING!

Everyone can see what you publish on the internet: information, photos, opinions.

2 RESPECT OTHERS!

You are responsible for what you publish online, so be careful what you say on social networks, forums etc. Treat others as you would like to be treated.

4 MAKE YOUR ACCOUNTS SECURE!

Always set your profiles on social networks so that you control the information you want to share.

3 DON'T SHARE EVERYTHING!

Give out as little personal information as possible on the internet. Don't share your political views, religion, phone number etc.

7 USE PSEUDONYMS

Only your friends and family will know it is you.

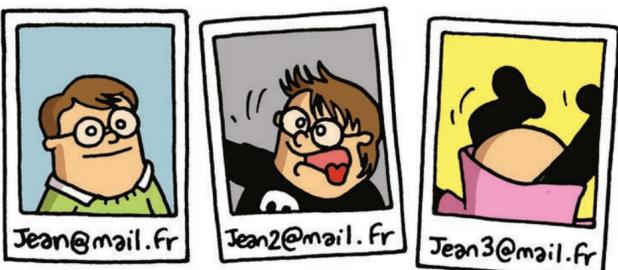

5 HAVE SEVERAL E-MAIL ADDRESSES!

You can use one e-mail address for your friends and another for games and social networks.

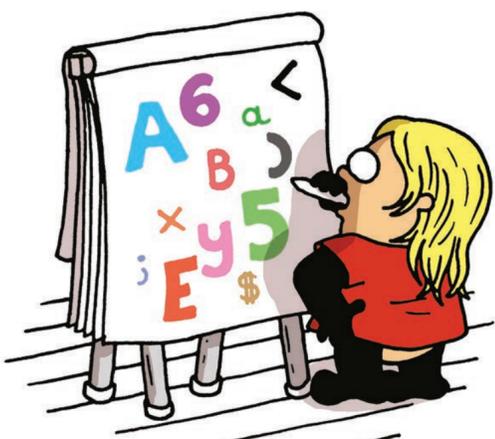

6 BE CAREFUL WITH PHOTOS AND VIDEOS

Don't publish embarrassing photos of yourself or your friends because you can't control their circulation.

8 BE CAREFUL WITH YOUR PASSWORDS!

Don't share them with anyone and make them a little complex: without your birthday or nickname!

10 CHECK WHAT TRACES YOU LEAVE

Regularly type your name into a search engine to find out what information is circulating about you on the internet.

9 CLEAR YOUR HISTORY

Regularly clear your browser history and remember to use private browsing if you are using a computer that is not your own.
